

CARNEGIE Public Libraries by State

This list is the result of a 1996 survey sent to every Carnegie Library community, state historical societies, and the Carnegie Corp, now located at Columbia University archives, New York City.

NOTE: NA denotes no answer to the survey, however, there could still be a Carnegie Library.

Lawton, OK, for example, is listed as "NA" but the old Carnegie Library is downtown Lawton and is now called the "Carnegie Town Hall" and is used for meetings.

If a library is listed as "razed" (destroyed) it will still qualify if the club can verify the address of the old library, research for the date of the razing and the trail goes by the property.

Communities with YREs listed in the 2009 Starting Point that also have Carnegie Libraries are underlined, but this does not necessarily mean the library is on the trail. Clubs will have to be sure to list Carnegie Libraries in the 2010 Starting Point.
